The adoption of these standards has no material effect on the results, nor has it required any restatement of the results.

Commentary

Zeder raised R495 million by means of a rights offer at R1,35 per share during the period under review. The offer was oversubscribed by more than 40%. Zeder's current cash at hand, together with a R300 million funding facility, will provide it with the necessary resources to pursue attractive identified investment opportunities.

Zeder invests in businesses that offer value and have strong management teams. Its investment philosophy remains to add value to its underlying investments, to provide them with capital where appropriate and to support management. Zeder prefers not to be involved in its investments' operational decision making, unless it is strategically required or the operations do not perform satisfactorily.

KWV restructuring

The performance of KWV's own operations has been unsatisfactory in the past. It is an asset rich business with significant potential. However, it always formed part of a larger group which had the luxury of an investment in the consistently performing Distell. The following table sets out a simplified breakdown of the old KWV Group's financial results:

| Year ended | 30-Jun-09 | 30-Jun-08 |
|-----------------------------|-----------|-----------|
| Headline earnings | | |
| - Continuing own operations | (R17,9 m) | R31,0m |
| - Distell | R158,0m | R153,8m |
| Equity | | |
| - Own operations | R1 026,1m | R839,3m |
| - Distell | R710,9m | R735,7m |
| Return on Equity | | |
| - Continuing own operations | (1,7%) | 3,7% |
| - Distell | 22,2% | 20,9% |

The inconsistent performance of KWV's own operational business and some corporate excesses necessitated a more business-like approach. Zeder as a large shareholder opted to act in the best interest of all shareholders and drove the split of KWV's own business from the Distell investment. The restructuring of the KWV Group consequently followed in terms of which its operational business was unbundled to shareholders in August 2009. Shareholders of the old KWV Group are now invested in two separate entities, namely:

- Capevin Holdings, with its core asset an effective interest of 15% in Distell; and
- KWV Holdings, the operational entity and owner of the KWV operational business.

These two companies operate independently, each with a newly elected board of directors and chairman.

The advantages of the aforementioned unbundling include:

- A simplified group structure;
- The specific performance of KWV's own operations will from now on be evaluated separately;
- The full Distell dividend, via Capevin, will in future flow straight through to shareholders; and
- The board of KWV Holdings has been reduced from 16 to 10 members with a new chairman, Thys du Toit. In addition, the non-executive directors' fees have been reduced by 70%.

We believe with the changes made KWV Holdings should become a company yielding a satisfactory return on assets in future. It is currently undertaking a rights offer to raise R150 million to reduce financial risk and provide the company with a platform to pursue growth opportunities. Zeder has signalled its intent as a long-term investor by underwriting the offer together with Vinpro on a 78:22 basis.

Kaap Agri

Zeder increased its stake in Kaap Agri to 35,7%. Both Kaap Agri's own operational business and its investment in Pioneer Foods are expected to deliver attractive returns.

Results

Recurring headline earnings increased by 17,1% to R74,8 million. However, recurring headline earnings per share decreased by 9,5% to 9,5 cents and reportable headline earnings per share by 20,4% to 10,9 cents per share. This was mainly attributable to the increased number of Zeder shares in issue after its aforementioned rights offer together with disappointing results from KWV's own operational business having made a headline loss of R17,9 million from its continuing operations for the year ended 30 June 2009.

Zeder presently equity accounts eight of its investments' headline earnings, which amounted to R72,8 million (2008: R68,6 million) for the period under review. Apart from KWV's operational business, all of the associated companies performed well amidst challenging economic conditions.

Subsequent to year-end, Zeder's investment portfolio increased by 9% to R1,85 billion, with its investments in Kaap Agri and Capevin Holdings currently representing approximately 75% of its portfolio. Zeder's net asset value per share was R2,30 as at 31 August 2009. The value per Zeder share at that date was R1,91, calculated using unlisted market prices. The book value of Zeder's investments in associated companies is tested for potential impairment at each reporting period. The directors are satisfied that the fair value of these investments exceeds book value.

Prospects

We remain bullish about the agricultural and related sectors. Zeder therefore continues to acquire related assets at a discount to its intrinsic value and, in so doing, should grow Zeder's recurring headline earnings and intrinsic value.

Directors

Wynand Greeff and George Eksteen were appointed to Zeder's board as financial director (effective 21 May 2009) and as a non-executive director (effective 1 September 2009), respectively.

Dividends

It is Zeder's policy to only declare a final dividend at year-end.
